Foxhall made a big haul for his backers. One New York man alone won $160,000.

Cadet Whitaker now asks the public to lend him its ear. He has organized a concert troupe.

Ex-Treasurer New has been prevailed upon to accept a $20,000 salary as president of the American Finance company, of New York.

In Tunis two Arabs, for wrecking a railway train, were shot and their heads exposed to the public as a warning. This way of dealing out justice might work well in Missouri. The only obstacle to trying the experiment is that they cannot catch the train robbers to try it with.

Immigration from Ireland during the past nine months has been twenty per cent less than last year. With "no rent" in Ireland, and a sure prospect of having to pay rent here, the conclusion is evidently reached by many that it is cheaper to stay at home, despite the agitation.

The plan for securing subscriptions to the Garfield monument, by sending to subscribers catalogues of relief is working admirably. Letters are already coming in at the rate of a thousand a day, and that, too, as the result of a few brief notices in the press of the land. The rush of applications and of subscriptions, shows two facts plainly—the power of the press as an advertising medium, and the eagerness with which the people grasp for relief.

Talmage is responsible for the statement that at the late general assembly of the Presbyterian churches of the United States, a clergyman accustomed to preach to a congregation of 200 people in a room that would hold 1,500, was appointed to preach a sermon on "How to Reach the Masses." Talmage thinks there was some mistake made in wedding that preacher with that topic, but he modestly refrains from saying who he thinks ought to have been chosen.

Brother-in-law Scoville has concluded not to press the question of jurisdiction in his defense of Guiteau. Two of the three points first made for the defense, that of malpractice on the part of the doctors, and lack of jurisdiction on the part of the court, have now been dropped. Now if Scoville will drop the third point, the claim that Guiteau is insane, the case could be speedily disposed of, but he does not seem anxious to thus accommodate the public. The date of trial has now been postponed until the 14th of November, and if many more attorneys get interested in the case, it will be subjected to still further delays.

The Chicago presbytery before whom Rev. J. H. Bourne has been on trial, has come to a strange verdict. It finds "the accused has been guilty of several acts not consistent with ministerial character, and scarcely reconcilable with strict moral integrity," and that in view of this conviction it is decided to censure him, and to admonish him "to guard against the appearance of like offenses in the future." If he was warned against the offenses themselves it would seem more to the point; but to warn him against the "appearance," is a reminder of the old doctrine, which caused the Lacedaemonian youth, who stole a fox, to keep him cowed under his tunic though the fox gnawed his very vitals. The "appearance" is made to appear worse than the evil itself.

A correspondent in the Milwaukee Sentinel attempts to bolster up the management of the Northern hospital for the insane under the old trustee system, and to cast reflection on the present State board of control. The article speaks for Dr. Kempster and justifies his management in all things, and bemoans the fact that the doctor has been bereft of so much power by the act of last winter abolishing the local boards and creating the board of control. Dr. Kempster may be a good physician. He may be an excellent man for the care of the insane and the general management of such an institution as the Northern hospital for the insane. But it is evident that the local board was no more competent to take charge of that hospital than the local board was of the State hospital at Madison. Had it not been for the numerous complaints made concerning the management of the State hospital, and the lack of system in managing that institution, there would probably never have been a State board of control. The investigation last winter of the State hospital, showed that the charges of mismanagement and gross carelessness were not altogether unfounded.

When the State board of control went to Oshkosh to look over matters connected with the Northern hospital they found some things to condemn. Dr. Kempster had been invested with almost unlimited power and he had used it. His apartments in that building were as spacious and gorgeous as those of the President of the United States at the White House. His rooms were lavishly furnished. He had more costly carpets to tread upon than any other official in Wisconsin. His wife was residing. He lived something like a king, and charged the expense to the State. The State board saw this condition of things, and decided to make a reform. Dr. Kempster does not want such a reform instituted, and therefore he is opposed to the State board, and through his influence an attempt will be made to abolish the board that Dr.

Kempster may regain his lost power. The facts, which have been brought out by the State board only confirm the statements which Senator Hamilton Richardson has made time and time again that reform was needed in the Northern hospital. The State board of control may not be just the thing for our State institutions, but let us give it a fair trial. If it successfully inaugurates the needed reforms in the Northern hospital, as it has done at the State hospital, its creation will not have been in vain.

Other Interesting State and Miscellaneous News Items.

WASHINGTON.

Special to the Gazette.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 27.—Judge Folger was nominated and confirmed Secretary of the Treasury; James was nominated postmaster general, with Hatton as assistant.

Ex-Governor Beveridge is nominated for assistant treasurer, at Chicago, vice Gilbert. The President will insist upon McVeigh remaining. Howe's friends are disappointed. Storrs is again mentioned for the place.

MURPHY.

Special to the Gazette.

New York, Nov. 26.—Ex-Collector Murphy has been nominated for Congress from the Ninth district.

BURNED.

Special to the Gazette.

New York, Oct. 27.—Wescher Abraham's dry good store in Brooklyn, burned this morning. Loss two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

THE TREASURYSHIP.

Judge Folger Nominated for the Vacant Cabinet Position.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—It is positively stated to-night that Chief Justice Folger, of New York, has been tendered and accepted the appointment of secretary of the treasury, and that his name will be sent to the Senate to-morrow. In connection with this appointment it is asserted that Folger agreed to accept on condition, or with the understanding, that he shall be appointed to the United States supreme bench to succeed Hunt, who, it is confidently believed, will be retired on account of physical disability by Congress. Folger really did not want the secretaryship, but is ambitious to go upon the supreme bench. It is still asserted by those who assume to know, that Conkling will succeed Folger in the treasury before President Arthur's administration grows very old. It is said Conkling would have been appointed, but that since he left the Senate he has taken several very important law cases, and has accepted some thousands of dollars in the shape of retainers from his clients, and therefore, he cannot abandon these cases, and it will be some months before he can attend to them. President Arthur is very anxious, so the story goes, to have Conkling at the head of the Treasury, and his great embarrassment since Morgan declined has been to find a man who would make way for Conkling when he gets ready to go into the Cabinet. Folger's retirement from Chief Justiceship of the New York Court of Appeals will necessitate an election of a successor, and the Democrats may win the election, and thus get a majority of that court. That is one reason why there was some embarrassment in appointing Folger to the Treasury, but after looking over the field, it appears the President concluded that he was the man wanted. Folger's preferences and tastes are so decidedly legal and judicial that, no doubt, he will be willing to leave the Secretaryship for a place on the United States Supreme Bench at any time.

Belief that Conkling is ultimately designed for the Secretaryship of the Treasury seems to be almost universal here, and if we were at liberty to accept it, it is believed the President would have appointed him.

Ex-Secretary, now Senator Windom, informed the Associated Press agent to-night, positively that Folger had been offered and had formally accepted the Treasury, and that the President will nominate him to-morrow. It now appears that Thurlow Weed worked the Morgan boom, and was largely interested in getting Morgan appointed, believing he could persuade him to accept. Ex-Senator Howe will be nominated to-morrow, also, for Attorney General, and it is quite likely the Senate will adjourn to-morrow evening.

THE ASSASSIN.

The Trial Postponed Until November 14th.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—After argument this morning by Mr. Scoville, counsel for Guiteau, Judge Cox postponed Guiteau's trial until November 14th. Mr. Scoville stated that, in his opinion, the court had jurisdiction, and intimated that he would not raise any question on that point.

District Attorney Corkhill has received a telegram from Judge Porter, of New York, stating that he will assist the government counsel in the prosecution of Guiteau. The district attorney, opposing postponement, said: "Has anything been presented upon which the court could act except the statement of the counsel that he could establish the fact that an insane man killed the President. It is more important that the same man who assassinated the President should promptly expiate that crime. That is what the people were waiting for, and not that this man should be provided with a posthumous trial." The court, in granting a postponement to Nov. 14 and no longer, said that it was an ordinary case, or a voluntary arrangement of counsel to enter into a case, he should say the case should not be subordinated to other engagements, but it was a consideration not to be disregarded that the order of the Court had taken counsel from the performance of other engagements.

Scoville occasioned much surprise to-day when he declined to raise the point of jurisdiction, the argument on which has been set for the 30th inst. It is stated, however, that the point is only reserved as to be of more service to the accused. Should he be tried and convicted a writ of habeas corpus will be taken and the plea of want of jurisdiction then raised. Should it then be decided that the district court was without jurisdiction, Mr. Scoville has been assured by very high legal authority that his client could not be tried in New Jersey, as that would be to put him in peril of his life a second time for the same offense. Should the argument be made made before the trial, and Judge Cox decide that he had no jurisdiction, this chance for the life of Guiteau would be lost.

Judge Lawrence, First Comptroller of the Treasury, has stated that witnesses for Guiteau living more than 100 miles outside of the jurisdiction of the Court (District of Columbia) cannot be paid by the Government. Inside that radius their expenses can be paid.

POLYGAMY.

President Arthur's Forthcoming Message.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—It seems probable that President Arthur will make some recommendations in his annual message with respect to polygamy in Utah. If President Garfield had lived the strength of his administration would have been exerted for the suppression of polygamous practices in that Territory. President Arthur has already taken steps to secure impartial and complete information on the Mormon question. If Congressional legislation is needed to stamp out the iniquities of Mormonism, such legislation will be asked, and whatever the Executive has to do to create a more healthful and decent order of things in Utah, will be performed without hesitation or delay.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 26.—Particulars of a terrible tragedy which occurred at Laomi last night, have just been received. John H. Hudson tried to shoot his wife, and failing, beat her skull in with a spade. He went to his brother's house and told what he had done, and was not seen again until to-day, when his dead body was found suspended to a limb of an apple tree. Mrs. Hudson will not live.

FATALLY SCALDED.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 26.—A disastrous explosion of the boiler of an engine on the Indiana, Bloomington and Western Road occurred here as a train moved out from the station at 6:30 this morning. The force of the explosion was mostly downward, and the engine was hoisted entirely off the track. Fireman Carlton, residing here, was scalded terribly, so that he will die; and broken Phil Rhodes, of Bloomington, was badly scalded.

Jacob Martzoff, of Lancaster, N. Y., says your Spring Blossom works well for everything you recommend it; myself, wife and children have all used it, and you feel like a healthier family in New York State. Oct. 5, 1880. Price 50 cents, trial bottles 10 cents. Sold by A. J. Roberts, and Sherer & Co.

FIGHT AT A CIRCUS.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 26.—After the performance at Coup's circus at Centerville, a difficulty occurred between the circus men and deputy marshals and others. A negro was shot dead and others badly beaten and bruised. Two citizens men and a woman were at the bottom of the affair. A lion and bear escaped from their cages during the fight. The bear was killed and the lion is still at large. Considerable excitement exists over the affair.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Blaine's Note Criticized by the London Times.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Times, in an article on Secretary Blaine's note in regard to the Panama Canal, says:

"No one will question the right of the United States to take precautions so that the canal shall not be used in any way hostile to them. So far as Blaine's letter is an argument for the neutrality of the canal, it is unanswerable; but we fail to see why there should be any repugnance to allow England or France to join in the guarantee, and why it should be contended that an efficaciously perfect neutrality was provided by a treaty with Columbia. Blaine's assumption that the American possessions of the Pacific coast would supply the larger part of the traffic which would seek the advantage of the canal is very questionable. Indeed, it scarcely admits of a doubt that the great bulk of the vessels, which for some years to come would pass through the canal would be English. At all events the dues paid by the American mercantile marine in the present unneutralized state, are not likely to form at any date a considerable part of the shareholders' receipts. Great though the interests of America are in this matter, and necessary though it is for her threshold to be free for communication to her Atlantic and Pacific States, this does not efface the fact that England also is at once an Atlantic and Pacific power, and that she is bound to have regard to the welfare of her subjects in British Columbia and to think of securing free access to her Austrian colonies. Neutralizing the canal would be for the benefit of all the states in the world, and we fail to gather from this communication any solid objection to allowing European powers to join in a work as universally desirable. Every additional guarantor would strengthen the guarantee. Every new party to the treaty would be a fresh security that the canal would not be blockaded or used as a basis for hostile operations in a time of war, and it seems a little inconsistent in one and the same breath to argue for a guarantee, and insist that the bill shall not be passed by more than two names. Were England to concede that she had no locus standi in regard to such guarantee, it would be difficult for her to reply to any American statesman who might choose to say hereafter that the governments of the two republics are alone parties to the treaty. What they have made they can tear up. The neutrality of the canal is for a time suspended. It seems, to say the least, to be unhappy to use language to describe a sincere co-operation of the European governments in a common object as of the nature of an alliance against the United States. Any statement of the views of the government in regard to the matter, which has almost ceased to be purely a matter of abstract politics, will command attention, but he must expect to find Englishmen quite unprepared to see any great difference between the position of Nicaragua and that of Panama, and at a loss to conceive what injury American interests could suffer from a general compact to secure the neutrality of a pathway which, in the interest of the whole world, should be placed outside of a region of warfare."

REMARKS.

—Caucuses to-night.

—The church folk meet for prayer to-night.

—The Merry Club opens its season this evening.

—Mr. Keeley has bought of Elmer Bullard a $400 team for Marshall Field & Co., Chicago.

—The Banker's Daughter, which is to be given at the Opera house next Tuesday evening, ought to prove a "rich" treat, and will.

—The cadets rallied in goodly numbers to drill last night, there being 33 present. Seven new members were added to the roll last evening.

—The Beloit city council has decided that the saloonists shall not sell to persons living elsewhere who get drunk every time they come to Beloit.

—The Beloit Free Press is loud in its praise of Arlington's minstrels, and declares that as good a show has not been given in that city for a long time.

—Marshall Hogan has been given a walking stick which is nobbly indeed, as well as knobby. It is made from a bit of diamond willow grown in Montana.

—Last night the boiler at the McLean woolen mill was allowed to burn out, and the work was set badly aback, the water having come in and filled up the wheel pit.

—The committee on equalization met at the county clerk's office to-day, to make up their report to submit at the next meeting of the county board. There will probably be some changes made from the figures adopted last year, some towns feeling that they have been overburdened.

—Mrs. Catharine Menzies, widow of the late John Menzies, of Harmony, died yesterday at the residence of her stepson, Hon. James Menzies. She had reached the age of eighty years, and has for several months been in feeble health. The funeral services are to be held to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

—Premiere & Evenson who are noted for their taste in fitting up their show windows, have a novel display of the "Maud S." cigars now, consisting of several thousand of them piled, in open boxes, one above the other, to the very top of the window. It is a tempting sight, to the average smoker.

—One of the young ladies in the dress circle, at the Opera house last night, became so carried away with the play, that when at a critical situation and while the audience was almost breathless, one of the actors asked—"shall we warn them of their danger?"—the young lady hurriedly answered, "yes." The audience gave way, and the crisis was passed in a good round of applause.

—Park avenue is now opened in fact, the fences having been torn away, and teams allowed to pass over it. The opening of this street is a marked improvement, and the property owners, upon whom the burden has fallen, have shown an enterprise which it is hoped they will find to be remunerative, but whether they do or not, they are highly gratified themselves at the result, and the public certainly has occasion to be.

—Dr. Strong, of Beloit, has been again called upon to mourn, death having suddenly taken on yesterday his son Harry, a boy of sixteen. Harry had been suffering from malarial fever but yesterday morning there seemed every reason to expect a speedy recovery. A few hours later, however, he was taken with hemorrhage of the bowels and death speedily followed. Dr. Strong has now lost seven children, and has but one remaining.

—The next entertainment at the Opera house is that of Monday evening, Oct. 31, when Mr. and Mrs. McKee Rankin are to appear in their celebrated American drama, "The Danites." There is little need to be said concerning them as their fame is so firmly established that their names are household words. The sale of tickets has commenced, and there is every indication that the entertainment will draw its full share of patronage, coming as it does in a week into which are crowded other entertainments of rare merit also.

—In all the talking and planning for the great Kellogg concert next Wednesday evening, it should not be forgotten that Brignoli, the celebrated tenor is to appear also. He is wonderful. The other members of the concert company are also artists of no inferior rank or mean talent. They include Miss Alta Pease, also; Signor Tagliapietra, baritone; Herr T. Adamowski, violinist; Herr S.

Liebing, pianist, and Mr. Adolph Glose, accompanist. Such a support with Clara Louise Kellogg, cannot but assure all that the concert is to be a grand one indeed.

—M. C. Smith & Son call the attention of the public, again, by a specially written card in another column. They have a wonderful fine stock of all sorts of clothing, and those who are getting ready to defend themselves against Jack Frost's nips and Manitoba waves, can nowhere get a better outfit. It is a great satisfaction to look over their stock for it is not only large, varied, and excellent, but everything is marked in plain figures, so that a customer can the more readily make his choice, and can moreover have the satisfaction of knowing that he is getting just as low prices as are to be had by anybody and at any time.

—One of Janesville's most highly respected ladies has always stoutly maintained the theory that there was no need of a woman being insulted on the streets, if she only went right along about her business, and paid no attention to loungers. She put her theory to the test last evening, and found it a failure. As she was going along Milwaukee street, a two-legged thing stepped out from the shadow of a building, tapped her on the shoulder and asked if he couldn't walk home with her. To be thus accosted by a stranger so surprised her that she could not reply, but the fellow seeing from her looks that he had missed his calling, hastily walked off again.

It lies on the wings of the morning, good news as well as bad, always. We want the fame of "Dr. Sykes' Sure Cure for Catarrh."

BORDEN, BELLECK & CO., Chicago, sell the best and cheapest Car Starter made. With it one can move a freight car.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS.

An adjourned meeting of the Janesville Horticultural Society was held last evening at E. B. Heimstreet's office. The president, F. S. Lawrence, being absent Dr. J. B. Whiting was called upon to preside.

The treasurer reported that there was a balance of $105.49 in the treasury, of which $20.25 was the balance received from the former treasurer, and $85.15 received in payment of certain notes which the society had held for some time.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—F. S. Lawrence.

Vice President—George J. Kellogg.

Secretary—E. B. Heimstreet.

Treasurer—J. B. Whiting, M. D.

Adjournment was then taken.

"Sellers' Liver Pills" have been the standard remedy for malaria, liver complaint, constipation, etc., for fifty years.

Beds of Down Feels Hard.

All beds seem hard to the rheumatic. Then harken ye peevish sufferers! Apply Dr. Thomas' Eucalypti Oil to your aching joints and muscles. Rely upon it that you will experience speedy relief. Such, at least, is the testimony of those who have used it. The remedy is likewise resorted to for throat and lung diseases, sprains, bruises, etc.

BARGAINS IN DRY GOODS.

Smith & Bestwick, the well known dry goods men, have lately bought up all the goods which the Albany mill had on hand, and have placed them upon their shelves and counters, purposing to give their customers the benefit of the bargain. These goods are excellent, and at the prices at which they are placed, and some of which are named in another column, the goods will go off like hot cakes on a wintry morning. This firm has, also, made other fortunate purchases of late, by which they are enabled to offer their customers other big bargains, and money can be saved by stepping into their store and getting comfortably fitted up for the coming cold weather.

Smith & Bestwick have an unusually large stock of fall and winter goods, and the assortment embraces besides the staple articles in their line, many fancy goods and novelties, just gathered by a careful search through the eastern market. Their enterprise in thus securing the latest and best for their customers, is causing their old trade to cling closer than ever, and much new trade to be added constantly thereto.

Tumors, erysipelas, mercurial diseases, scrofula, and general debility cured by "Dr. Lindsey's Blood Searcher."

PERSONAL.

—O. C. Keeler, of Beloit, is in the city to-day.

—Attorney E. M. Hyzer went to Elkhorn this afternoon to attend to legal business there.

—Rev. T. W. MacLean, of this city, was elected secretary of the Sunday school conference in session at Madison.

—Mrs. Hicks, who has been visiting Mr. Hyzer and other friends for a month past, returned to-day to her Milwaukee home.

—George Osgood, who has been attending the Chicago exposition for the past seven weeks, showing up the merits of the single center spring, is at home again.

THE FEAR OF THE LAW.

There was a little whirl of fun and excitement at the corner of Jackson and Milwaukee streets last evening. Two dogs started it. One of them belonged to Jacky Griffin, the other to Squaky Muldoon. The dogs looked cross-eyed at each other as they were going home, stopped, snarled, snapped, and went it. Jacky's dog was on top, and had Squaky's by the throat. This pleased Jacky. "That's right, give it to 'em. Show 'em how the Griffins can maul the stuffin' out of the Muldoons. Go it, give it to 'em." Then Squaky's dog got on top. Squaky was delighted. "Go it, old boy, chew um, chew um, that's right, [divit a bit did a Muldoon iver give it to a Griffin." Then Jacky's dog tailed one, and he exclaimed—"Arrah, look a [that now. Give it to the Muldoon, ye rascal." It was Muldoon's turn—"Shake um, shake um, yer rat, ye a Griffin has no business tackling a Muldoon." "That's that yer say?" "Shure a Griffin has no business wid a Muldoon—an if yer a mun, jork off your waistcoat there, and I'll show yer how a Muldoon can git away wid a Griffin." The challenge was promptly accepted. The waistcoat was quickly tossed aside, and Jacky came to time prepared for first blood. It meant business, but Muldoon capped the climax by another proclamation—"Now, let me give yer fair warnin'. Uviver ye dare to touch so much as the tail o' me coat, as shure as yer name is Jacky Griffin, I'll—have yer in jail in less than half of an hour." The dogs by this time having finished their bout, peace was declared, and the crowd of storekeepers hurried away to unlock their doors, and attend to business again.

WELL GIVEN.

The audience which gathered at the Opera house last evening to witness Bartley Dampbell's "My Geraldine" was not large, nor was it very enthusiastic. The play pleased all, but all seemed timid about giving any free outward expression to their amusement or approval. One evident cause for this holy calm was the absence of any orchestral music with not even a piano to break the quaker-like stillness preceding the rise of the curtain, and between the acts. This absence of music was not the fault of the management entirely, it being supposed that this had been arranged for, until it was too late to atone for the misunderstanding.

The audience, though undemonstrative, was intensely interested in the play and its faithful presentation. The plot was one of reasonable strength, and the incidents and situations attendant thereon, were happily introduced. The play was put on in excellent shape, the scenic effects being fine, and all the properties being in keeping with the demands of a first class entertainment. The company was nearly the same as that which has been giving the play so successfully in Chicago of late, and did themselves and the play full justice. Miss Emily Baker, who took the part of "Mary Carroll" did some very fine work, and some bits of acting which were thrillingly effective. "Taddy Craggan," as taken by Mr. Wm. J. Scanlan won great favor with the audience, it being one of the best portrayals of Irish character seen here, there being an ease, a quiet humor, and a careful avoidance of strained efforts, which merited high praise, and showed a careful, honest study of the part.

Both play and company are certainly entitled to liberal praise and support. There was nothing cheap or flimsy in even the details and unimportant parts of the entertainment thus given, and the audience enjoyed it greatly, and though in a quiet mood, the close attention given, the evident emotions aroused at times and occasionally breaking forth in applause or laughter, the many words of praise overheard after the drop of the curtain, all are proof sufficient that the play and the people pleased all.

Those having clothes at the Excelsior Laundry, will please call and get them Saturday night, October 29.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY FRANKLIN & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night, stood at 49 degrees above; at 1 o'clock A. M. to-day, at 41 degrees above; at 7 o'clock A. M., at 41 degrees above; and at 1 o'clock P. M. at 64 degrees above. Partly cloudy.

An advertised and positive cure for Catarrh—"Dr. Sykes' Sure Cure."

The success that follows the treatment of Dr. Price's has in fact been the result of his peculiar practice, as well as from his having devoted so much time to the exclusive treatment of chronic diseases. It is said that persons come to Dr. Price from all parts of the country, and never in vain if there is any stamina of constitution left. Do not linger trusting to an uncertainty. Let Dr. Price be consulted on his next visit to Janesville, Myers house, on Saturday, the 5th of November.

MARRIED.

CARY-ALDRICH—Sunday morning, the 24th instant, at the residence of the bride's father, Chapin Aldrich, Esq., of the town of Lima, Wis., G. B. Cary, M. D., and Miss Louise Aldrich, of Lima.

JONES—After a long and painful illness, borne with great patience, at her home, near Evansville, Wisconsin, September 14, Mrs. S. J. Jones, aged 68 years, wife of the late Ira Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones came to the farm—where both have died—in April, 1890. Mr. Jones from the first took an active part in town and county affairs, and was warmly seconded by his faithful wife. They were active members of the M. E. church, but with serene and encouraging words in the establishment of other societies. After the sudden death of Mr. Jones, in 1895, Mrs. Jones remained on the farm, and has made it the truest scene of a home. Here were spent years of her life, and she did not marry again, and having watched with unflinching interest the improvements of not only this section but of our vast country, she has fallen asleep in the blessed assurance of a better life.

SWIFT—At his home in Albion, Dane county, Wis., October 18th, 1890, died, at the residence of his wife, Mrs. M. E. Swift, in the 72nd year of his age.

Frederick Sweet was born in Otego county, New York, June 21st, 1818. In August, 1841, he moved to Wisconsin and settled on his farm in Albion, where he lived until his death. He was the first white man in the town of Albion, and shared with the early settlers the privations and struggles of pioneer life. His name has been identified with the development and civilization of this country.

He was a man of kind and generous heart, and his last years were spent in the quietude of his home, his life being a model of domestic and social virtues. His funeral services were held at the Methodist church, near his place, of which he was a worthy member.

He leaves a wife and one daughter and a large circle of sympathizing friends.

Cuticura

PYÆMIA

Or Blood Poisoning, which Results in Abscesses, Ulcers, Sores, Carbuncles, Boils and Itching Humors, Cured.

FEVER SORE.

What I tell you is the truth, told for no other purpose but to testify to the merits of CUTICURA REMEDIES. Mr. Frederick Weston, of this town, has been troubled for years with a Fever Sore on one of his legs. Last fall and all winter he could hardly walk a step. I induced him to take your CUTICURA. He has taken about four bottles CUTICURA, and now he is well and free from his trouble. He has taken about four bottles CUTICURA, and now he is well and free from his trouble. He has taken about four bottles CUTICURA, and now he is well and free from his trouble.
